“ There are too many memories to ever count, I am so thankful that I've know you your whole life, I am blessed to call you family, we've had so many good times, we've shared tears and happy times, many late nights of great conversation, we shared dreams of traveling the world and great food together and we shared a love between cousins that was more like sisters. ❤️

Danny I was shocked when I heard the news. I did not know your wife well, but I do know she was the best thing in your life. Im sorry i could not attend the service but i wanted to offer my thoughts and prayers to you. They can never take away the memories that you two shared. So remember the good times, and when your feeling down just remember that smiling face, beautiful smile, and good times you shared. Good luck my friend.
