“ Darrell, I remember going by your shop on Halsted to pick out a stove and you ended up selling me a fridge. I walked out of there laughing because I needed a stove but I got a fridge. But when the guys came to drop off the fridge they dropped off the stove too. You are the best, even when a stranger came in you helped because you saw the good in them. Thank you for seeing the good in me. Heaven's gates wide open I bet you're out there trying to oil the squeak out. You're gonna be missed by so many. The Castro family
