“ I was shocked and stunned by the passing of devoted husband and father, Police Officer John LeCompte. I am saddened by his passing and wish my dearest friend, Donna, whom I started with at The First in the summer of 1963 with our dearest friend, Chris, over 50 years ago, along with her family my sincerest sympathy and condolences on losing this quiet, gentle, caring, loyal and dedicated husband, father and grandfather. God bless you all with the strength you need to get through this deep family loss. I hope John's quiet strength and smile will help you heal and help you to remember how much he loved you all. May the wonderful, happy memories you shared sustain you during this very sad time.

“ John always made me/us feel so welcome. Family friends are family and that's how it always is when visiting. John was always making us taste something or giving you something he found and wanted to share. You will be missed LeCompte and I will keep your chair open so you can visit while Donna and I are consoling one another. Love you, Veronica
