“ *Tell me, what does it look like in heaven?
Is it peaceful? Is it free like they say?
Does the sun shine bright forever?
Have your fears and your pain gone away?
'Cause here on Earth it feels like everything
Good is missing since you left
And here on Earth, everything's different
There's an emptiness*

You don't just cross our minds Johnny. You live in it. They are doing it all for you. Hoping you're smiling down at them with pride. I know you're with us. I feel you all the time. Until we meet again my love.

“ Dedicated to Mary Kwilos in memory of John Patrick Kwilos
Dear Lord you handed me my heaviest cross today, you took my son away. Why or how it happened, I don't know, but it was your will, so it had to be so. The only thought I can find comfort in, you took him quickly, you were kind; he no longer has to suffer like we, the ones he left behind. How I am going to handle this...right now I can't say. Only a mother knows what I'm feeling in my heart today, perhaps just as your mother felt when the soldiers dragged you away. It's happened, it's over. Thy will must be done, now you have full care of my son. One last thing, please I beg of you, give me the strength to carry on, now that my son John is gone.

“ Kwi, I only wish to share fond memories of you. You were compassionate during character building times, and hard but fair in times were it was necessary. I appreciate you having the courage to trust me during your character building situations. I will always remember the strong personality, with a huge heart and remarkable smile. May you rest in peace, I hope your loved ones find strength in my characterization of how I remember you.
