“ We've known Joe for more than 40 years through his eldest daughter, Denice. Although he was in Hospice and his body was weak, the love he shared with his family as they took such gentle,, loving care of him made him strong. He handled his illness in his last months of his life with dignity, grace, and a sense of humor. Joe's loving family made sure he could pass away comfortably at home, surrounded by loved ones, as was his wish. The world is a better place because of Joe and his wonderful family.
