“ Mary Rose Gearon from Florence, Italy.

Patrick was simply the kindest and most open hearted person who came into my life through a genealogy search and was instrumental in helping me weave my way though the family archives and was as jubilant as I when, finally I got my Irish citizenship. I met him once, on a bitter cold, snowy May day in Evanston with his mum, my cousin Laura, and was amazed by his vitality, his stories, his knowledge and wry humour.

Lucky those who were able to spend more time with him, but my memory of him will shine long and bright. Heartfelt condolences, Laura on losing your Patrick.

“ I have known Patrick since he was in kindergarten at OLC, and he was such an inspiration to me and everyone who knew him. He had so many challenges in his life and was always positive and had a wonderful smile. After that year, he transferred to St. Joseph. When he was in fourth through eighth grade, I started teaching computer classes there several days a week. He would come early into the lab on days that I was there, and he shared many stories with me about all his family members, including his dad, who served our country in the military. He had such a good sense of humor, and we shared so many laughs. He was so excited to work on his family tree and shared many memories as well as family pictures. I continued to keep in touch with him while he was in high school and college, and he just recently messaged me about his gemstone project that he was working on. I will be praying for his mom who was so devoted to her son. She is one special lady. Rest in Peace, Patrick. You definitely will be missed by so many people who loved you. I know God has a special place in heaven reserved for you. Hugs, Sharon Griebel

“ I knew Patrick from high school Saint Joe's. He was on the chess club with us and I occasionally had a class with him. He was a confident, forthright young man.

We still kept in touch here and there over the years. Just checking on how each other is doing and stuff. The last time I talked to him was the September is disheartening to hear about his passing. Best wishes to the family all of.

“ Patrick was such a dear, sweet person. He was my student in first grade at St. Joseph School. He had so much spirit, courage and wit. He persevered and would never give up. We all enjoyed his intelligence and his wonderful sense of humor . I remember him giggling and enjoying himself and everyone. He had such a positive outlook. His bravery was an example to us all. I love you, Patrick. I'll never forget you. Please pray for us now that you are with God in heaven. My condolences to your family.

“ Pat frequently stopped by my classroom after school. He loved talking Chicago Bulls and Chicago Cubs. When he found out I had been to England once, he schooled me on the Irish! I still have his copy of REBELS, The Irish Rising of 1916. I appreciated his humor and his love for his family ties. He sent me several links to great Irish songs. He did a great job tracing my family as well. I'll miss our Zooms. They were as humorous as they were thoughtful. God welcome you, Pat! - Tony Quattrochi

I'm so sad seeing that Patrick is gone. When he was at St. Joe's grade school, I was the gym teacher. We both had walking challenges and often "raced" outside to the playground! He loved beating me and would be laughing. We talked about sports so much, especially the Bears. Patrick talked a lot about his family too. He missed his Dad, gone 12 years. Last month he told me about making things with gemstones. He sure tried many things! I'll miss talking and messaging Patrick!
