“ Dear Barb,

I am so sorry about the loss of your dad. I know you were very close to him. I know this because I saw it with my own eyes when we were kids. I remember when we met fifty-one years ago and somehow God made sure we talked about horses. Our friendship was cemented. I remember a very special time when we were walking home from Dore school and you walked with me because your house was on the same street as the school. I remember this one day when we sat on your front steps and your dad came home from work. I heard something really peculiar. I heard you and your dad talking to each other like “regular” people. I don’t know if you remember me asking you in surprise, “You talk to your dad?” I remember you looking at me like you did not understand what I might be talking about. I told you I did not have anything near an actual conversation with my dad. I know your dad had it rough health wise for a long time, but don’t let that steal away the fond memories you have with a dad who can talk to his daughter. No regrets, now that he is in Heaven. God blessed you with a special dad who worked hard, loved photography, and most importantly, understood how important it was to just talk with you. God is good, and I pray for you and your entire family, and He will see you through everything in His way and His time because He understands the most. Be at peace because your dad walks with Jesus and you will see them both again one day.

*Love you always,
Patty & Fred*
