“ Thinking of you again mom. Not a day goes by that I don't think of you. I miss you so much, life is so different without you in it. I miss your smile, your touch and your endless love. I'm so relieved that you're no longer suffering, but I wish you were still here with us. I wish that we could have just one more day together. I'll love you always and forever.
Love, your baby Shari ❤️

Mom, just recently I received the most devastating news. You know, because you were there holding me. Mom, as much as I miss you, I'm just too young to die yet. Please ask Jesus to spare the loss of losing me, their mom too. I remember it being so hard to try to explain why their Daddy wasn't ever coming home again. Boy, I thought that was hard then. Now I have to prepare them to possibly live their lives without me as well. I know that Sonny and you can both together help a miracle happen. Mama, they need need me. I promise to be not sad most of the time without Sonny. I want to live and slow down to smell the flowers and just enjoy life. Most of my sadness was hidden deep in my heart, but now that my own mortality is in question I know I don't want to die. Please keep holding me and keeping me strong at one of my weakest moments. Love and miss you Mama, Shari xoxoxo

*Hi Mama, It's almost a year since I last wrote you. I'm in remission now. Thank God. I know that You and Sonny had something to do with that. I had a lot of people praying for me. I know that helped tremendously too. Today we found out that we have to move dad to a nursing home. You know I promised you that I would always take care of him but with the stroke and everything I can't do it Mama. With this stupid Covid virus going around we can't even visit the place where he's going. That's hard, because he's going to have to do everything himself. You know how I usually answer for him, now I can't. Please watch over Daddy. I know he still strong but he only has one side to work with. I hope the staff is nice to him. He's moving probably this week. We can't even say goodbye to anybody at Cordia. He was loved by so many there. It's going to be quiet with him gone. I wanted to say goodbye to all the CNA's who took care of him. They were all so wonderful. We chose a great place Mom. I hate changes, but this is what we have to do. Thank you for watching over me Mama. I wish you were here to give us advice. You were always so smart Mom you were right about everything!!! I miss you so much, I see your face every day and it makes me smile. I love you forever. Love, your baby Shari.
